DETAILED ACTION

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Note the use of the expression "said".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 5, 6, 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bond ('485). The patent to Bond ('458) teaches structure as claimed including a pallet comprising a frame at least one rail (25) secured to the frame, the at least one rail having a rail slot (fig. 8), a pin mechanism (fig. 8) slidably received in the slot, the pin mechanism having a pallet pin that is moveable along the entire length of the slot.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bond ('485) in view of Hickey. The patent to Bond ('485) teaches structure substantially as claimed as discussed above including a pallet pin, the only difference being that the pin is not movable to a position that is flush with the frame. However, the patent to Hickey teaches the use of providing pallet pins that can be moved from perpendicular to flush with the frame to be old. It would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the structure of Bond to include a movable pin, as taught by Hickey since such structures are conventional alternative structures used in the same intended purpose, thereby providing structure as claimed.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bond ('485) in view of Hickey as applied to the claims above, and further in view of Bond ('033). The patent to Bond ('485) teaches structure substantially as claimed as discussed above including a frame, the only difference being that a plurality of feet extending downwardly from the frame is not include. However, the patent to Bond ('033) teaches the use of providing downwardly extending feet (fig. 5) to be old. It would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the structure of Bond ('485) in view of Hickey to include downwardly extending feet, as taught by Bond ('033) since such structures are used in the same purpose, thereby providing structure as claimed.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 8-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 17-18 are allowable over the prior art of record.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Weiss, Berrett, Harvey, Lam, Richard, Bae, Cully teach structure similar to applicant's.
